1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Background

- 1.1.1 The New Mangalore Port Authority (the “Authority”) intends to hand over existing Berth No. 13 for handling POL products / Chemicals as per PPP / Captive Policy Guidelines (the “Project”).
- 1.1.2 With a view to invite bids for the Project, the Authority requires preparation of a feasibility report for project appraisal, developing a revenue model based on the feasibility and has decided to conduct a financial viability of the Project. If found technically feasible and financially viable, the Project may be awarded on Captive User / PPP basis to a private entity (the “Concessionaire”) selected through a competitive bidding process. The Project would be implemented in accordance with the terms and conditions stated in the concession agreement to be entered into between the Authority and the Concessionaire (the “Concession Agreement”).
- 1.1.3 In pursuance of the above, the Authority has decided to carry out the process for selection of a Consultant cum Transaction Adviser (the “Consultant”). The Transaction Adviser shall, in accordance with the Terms of Reference specified at Schedule-1 (the “TOR”), prepare a Feasibility Report, appraise the Project, develop a revenue model and project structure, prepare the Bid Documents (RFQ, RFP including Draft Concession Agreement) based on Model Bid Documents including Model Concession Agreement to be provided by Authority, and assist the Authority in the bidding process, execution of Concession Agreement with selected Concessionaire and achievement of Financial close.

2 Request for Proposal

The Authority invites tenders from reputed Consulting firms (the “Proposals”) for selection of Transaction Adviser (the “Consultant”) who shall conduct a feasibility study for handing over of Berth No. 13 in line with the principles of PPP / Captive Policy guidelines, develop a revenue model and appropriate structure for the Project (the “Revenue Model”), prepare bid documents for selection of the Concessionaire (the “Bid Documents”), assist the Authority in the bidding process, execution of Concession Agreement with selected Concessionaire and achievement of Financial close (collectively the “Consultancy”).

2.1 Brief of New Mangalore Port.

- 2.1.1 The Major Port of New Mangalore (NMP), a lagoon type harbour located on the west coast of India (12⁰55’N; 74⁰48’E) is a gateway port for State of Karnataka. Amongst the total traffic handled at the port, the bulk liquid crude and POL products forms a major part (about 2/3rd). The Liquid Cargo handling capacity at the port currently stands at 21 MTPA of crude and POL.

2.1.2 The Port, a lagoon type harbor is entered through a dredged channel, about 7.5 km long. The entrance is protected by two breakwaters extending to a length of 770m on either side of the channel. The dredged channel has a bottom width of 245m, with a dredged depth of 15.40m below CD. The harbor basin and the Oil Dock Arm have dredged depths of 15.1 m below CD, suitable for handling 65/ 85,000 DWT crude tankers.

2.1.3 Marine & Land Environment:

The Port is located on the alluvial plain, about 10km north of the mouth of the Gurupur and the Netravathi rivers. The old port of Mangalore, located on the confluence of these two rivers, is a roadstead port. This port is operational only during the fair weather season viz., 15th September to 15th May.

2.1.4 Climate

The climate of Mangalore has seasonal variation on account of the alternating SW and NE monsoon. The different seasons are characterized as under:

- The cool season (December to March), during which winds blow from NE and the weather is dry and little cold.
- The hot season (April to May). During this season, winds are light and variable with sea breezes. Tropical cyclonic storms (cyclones) may cross the Arabian Sea during this season.
- During SW monsoon or rainy season (June to September), the wind over the sea is between SW and W, but mainly W to NW along the coast.
- The interim period (October and November) is marked by light winds with land and sea breezes. Occasional tropical cyclones occur in the Arabian Sea in this period.

2.1.5 Temperature

In Mangalore, the air temperature is high throughout the year. The mean temperature in the hottest month, which generally occurs just before the onset of the SW monsoon, varies between 33⁰C to 37⁰ C and lowest temperature recorded in a year has been 16.7⁰ C.

2.1.6 Humidity

Humidity is fairly high here at all times and seasons. There is a large variation as well from damp conditions in early mornings in the wet season to the drier conditions in the afternoon in the dry season. Daily variation is least during the SW monsoon. The maximum relative humidity observed during monsoon period is 92% (August). The minimum relative humidity during non monsoon period is 60% (December and January).

2.1.7 Visibility

Sometimes mist develops on the coast after a calm and clear night, but it soon disperses after sunrise. In Mangalore, during the SW monsoon (from June to September) thick haze develops. The maximum number of foggy days in a year is only 3.

2.1.8 Wind

The winds in the monsoon months (June, July and August) are predominantly from SW to W, with a maximum intensity of 20 to 61 kmph. The winds in the remaining months of the year are predominantly from NW with a maximum intensity of 20 to 61 kmph.

2.1.9 Rainfall

The average annual rainfall is 3467mm. The rainfall is concentrated in the SW monsoon (June, July, August and September), during which period the precipitation is as much as 84% of the total annual rainfall. The rainfall is maximum in July (1102.7mm); February is the most dry month (with rainfall being about 2 mm).

The maximum rainfall recorded in a day (24 hour period) was 27 cm. The average number of rainy days in a year is 123.

2.1.10 Cyclones

While the average frequency of cyclonic storms in the Arabian Sea is about one per year, there have been years when two or three such storms have occurred. There have also been years without any such storms. The maximum wind speed so far recorded in a cyclonic storm generally does not exceed 62 kmph (16.9m/s.), except once during 1965 when the maximum speed recorded was 97 kmph (26.9m/s.).

2.1.11 Wave Climate

The predominant direction of waves in the vicinity of New Mangalore Port during monsoon months (June, July and August) is West to South West, whereas the predominant direction during the fair months is North – West and North. High waves are experienced only during the monsoon month on site.

2.1.12 Tides

An automatic recording tide gauge has been installed by the Survey of India, National Hydrographic Office, Dehradun in the vicinity of the Oil Jetty area of the Port, inside the lagoon.

2.1.13 Current

The current along the coast during the SW monsoon (from February to September) is generally towards the South (from 160° to 200°) with a strength of 0.22 to 0.80 knots. During the NE monsoon (from November to January), the current is generally towards the North (from 0° to 40° and 320° to 360° bearing) with a velocity of 0.22 to 0.60 knots.

In the port entrance channel protected by breakwater, the current direction lags 6° to 8° behind the coastal current. The current in the lagoon area further lags behind the approach channel on an average by 10° to 15° . The magnitude of the current outside the lagoon area during the monsoon as experienced by pilots is about 1 to 1.5 knots.

2.1.14 Littoral Drift

The study carried out by CWPRS, Pune during 2002 has concluded as under:-

- Significant littoral drift occurs between 1 and 2m depth contours, which are at a distance of about 200 to 400m from shoreline.
- Seasonal drift distribution has indicated that during North-East monsoon, littoral drift is towards north, whereas during South – West monsoon and non-monsoon period, the drift is towards South.
- The northwards drift is comparatively less than the southward drift.
- The average littoral drift in the region is of the order of 0.58 lakh cubic meter towards south during southwest monsoon and non-monsoon period and 0.08 lakhs cubic meter towards north in North – East monsoon. The average net littoral drift is 0.5 lakh cubic meter per year towards South.
- The mathematical model studies for shoreline stability have indicated that the effect of breakwater is felt upto a distance of about 2.5 km on either side of the breakwaters. The examination of remote sensing imageries confirms these observations.

2.1.15 Soil Characteristics

The details soil borings carried out in the Oil Dock Arm (near Berth No.13) indicate that hard rock is at about -23.5 m to -25 m. Top layers consisted of coarse sand / fine sand.

2.2 Existing Port Facilities:

NMP is spread over 820 Ha of land area and water area of about 120 Ha.

2.2.1 Berths and Jetties

The port has total of 16 berths. In addition, MRPL has constructed one SPM within the Port's limits at -22 m contour at a distance of about 17 Km from the shoreline and laid underwater crude oil pipelines. The details of Berths are presented in the following table.

2.2.8 Recent Developments

The PPP Projects for Asset Monetization at Major Ports envisions increase in private participation through PPP mode in the Indian Maritime Sector by strengthening institutional frameworks, model agreements and legislations.

The extract of relevant points of the concept note on PPP projects for Asset Monetization prepared by the Indian Ports Association is as follows:-

In order to improve governance and functioning of Major ports, so that the overall ecosystem for private sector participation in port sector improves, some major steps have been taken recently:

- Major Port Authorities Act 2021: MPA Act 2021, enacted by the parliament in February 2021, will provide more autonomy to ports and help them take decisions faster with respect to infrastructure development and changing market conditions. It is expected to usher in a new era for administration of Major Ports in India in which the Major Ports will contribute significantly to the economic growth and provide world-class port infrastructure by adopting Landlord Model of development.
 - i. The Major Ports shall gain autonomy on many key matters including tariffs, development of port assets, master planning of infrastructure within port limits and powers to make regulations for operations of the Major Ports.
 - ii. Also, the role of Tariff Authority for Major Ports (TAMP) for fixation of the tariff has been done away in the new MPT Act as a tariff regulator and ports would be free to set their tariff based on market forces. The impact of the changes in Tariff fixation will be enormous as it will create inter port competition and also once the ports are empowered for tariff fixation, they will be in better position to take on markets with near by non major ports handling similar cargo.

iii. The Act also provides for formulation of an Adjudicatory Board that will adjudicate disputes among Major Ports, Public Private Partnership concessionaires and captive users. MPA Act 2021 will have enormous impact on overall maritime trade as focus would be on meeting the market demand and providing high level of services to the customers, leading to adoption of high-tech in overall port operations.

- Captive Policy: Recently, MoPSW has revised the existing Captive Policy allowing existing captive users to add new berth/ jetty/ terminal/ single point mooring (SPM) for their enhanced capacity requirement; and changes in existing Captive Policy for renewal/ extension of concession period to non-government entities taking into consideration their ongoing business requirements, allotment of waterfront to Government bodies on nomination basis and examining the various aspects like valuation of assets, period of concession, tariff, first right of refusal, etc. The proposal is under review with the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs (CCEA) for approval.
- Model Concession Agreement (MCA 2021): A new MCA 2021 has been notified after revisiting the existing Model Concession Agreement 2018, considering the change in policy environment due to enactment of Major Ports Authorities Act 2021 and exploring provision of further flexibility to respond to dynamic market and regulatory conditions, many provisions have been provided or modified to cater to changing environment and develop a conducive atmosphere around PPP to boost investment.
- Tariff Policy (2021): New Tariff Guidelines, 2021, for framing of Scale of Rates for PPP projects under bidding stage and all future concession agreements to be entered by Major Ports as per MPA Act, 2021 has been notified on 21st Dec.2021. PPP Concessionaires for projects after commencement of the MPA Act are free to fix the tariff based on market conditions and on such other conditions as may be notified by the Government. MoPSW has also issued a Policy to the Major Ports Authorities on 3rd November, 2021 as a policy direction under Section 53 of the MPA Act 2021 for fixation of rates for assets and services offered by the Major Ports. New Tariff Policy for Major Ports empowers the board of the ports and provides flexibility to fix tariff for assets and services operated by Major Ports themselves as per the market condition.

SCHEDULE-3

(See Clause 2.3.3)

Guidance Note on Conflict of Interest

1. This Note further explains and illustrates the provisions of Clause 2.3 of the RFP and shall be read together therewith in dealing with specific cases.
2. Consultants should be deemed to be in a conflict of interest situation if it can be reasonably concluded that their position in a business or their personal interest could improperly influence their judgment in the exercise of their duties. The process for selection of consultants should avoid both actual and perceived conflict of interest.
3. Conflict of interest may arise between the Authority and a consultant or between consultants and present or future concessionaries/contractors. Some of the situations that would involve conflict of interest are identified below:
 - (a) Authority and consultants:
 - (i) Potential consultant should not be privy to information from the Authority which is not available to others.
 - (ii) Potential consultant should not have defined the project when earlier working for the Authority.
 - (iii) Potential consultant should not have recently worked for the Authority overseeing the project.
 - (b) Consultants and concessionaires/contractors:
 - (i) No consultant should have an ownership interest or a continuing business interest or an on-going relationship with a potential concessionaire/ contractor save and except relationships restricted to project-specific and short-term assignments.
 - (ii) No consultant should be involved in owning or operating entities resulting from the project.
 - (iii) No consultant should bid for works arising from the project.

The participation of companies that may be involved as investors or consumers and officials of the Authority who have current or recent connections to the companies involved, therefore, needs to be avoided.

4. The normal way to identify conflicts of interest is through self-declaration by consultants. Where a conflict exists, which has not been declared, competing companies are likely to bring this to the notice of the Authority. All conflicts must be declared as and when the consultants become aware of them.
5. Another approach towards avoiding a conflict of interest is through the use of “Chinese walls” to avoid the flow of commercially sensitive information from one part of the consultant’s company to another. This could help overcome the problem of availability of limited numbers of experts for the project. However, in reality effective operation of “Chinese walls” may be a difficult proposition. As a general rule, larger companies will be more capable of adopting Chinese walls approach than smaller companies. Although, “Chinese walls” have been relatively common for many years, they are an increasingly discredited means of avoiding conflicts of interest and should be considered with caution. As a rule, “Chinese walls” should be considered as unacceptable and may be accepted only in exceptional cases upon full disclosure by a consultant coupled with provision of safeguards to the satisfaction of the Authority.
6. Another way to avoid conflicts of interest is through the appropriate grouping of tasks. For example, conflicts may arise if consultants drawing up the terms of reference or the proposed documentation are also eligible for the consequent assignment or project.
7. Another form of conflict of interest called “scope–creep” arises when consultants advocate either an unnecessary broadening of the terms of reference or make recommendations which are not in the best interests of the Authority but which will generate further work for the consultants. Some forms of contractual arrangements are more likely to lead to scope-creep. For example, lump-sum contracts provide fewer incentives for this, while time and material contracts provide built in incentives for consultants to extend the length of their assignment.
8. Every project contains potential conflicts of interest. Consultants should not only avoid any conflict of interest, they should report any present/ potential conflict of interest to the Authority at the earliest. Officials of the Authority involved in development of a project shall be responsible for identifying and resolving any conflicts of interest. It should be ensured that safeguards are in place to preserve fair and open competition and measures should be taken to eliminate any conflict of interest arising at any stage in the process.
